Ocean Museum Germany – More to SEA

Deutsches Meeresmuseum

The Ocean Museum Germany Foundation is a natural science museum of high national and global standing. The Foundation has four locations: MEERESMUSEUM, OZEANEUM, NATUREUM and NAUTINEUM. The NAUTINEUM on the island of Dänholm houses taxidermy, collections and dissection facilities.

The Ocean Museum Germany's exhibitions, collections and research focus on marine biology, oceanography, fisheries and marine science. Synergies between research, science communication and outreach are key to the success of the Ocean Museum Germany, one of the most visited museums in the country. The Ocean Museum Germany is actively involved in habitat and species conservation.
